the best way to avoid having to defend yourself is simply not to be in places where you would need to.